SBA Forum on Small Business Lending

Presented by the U.S. Small Business Administration

If you are starting or expanding a business and need financing, plan on attending the SBA Forum on Small Business Lending. The forum gives small business owners insight into SBA's loan guaranty programs and the criteria used by loan officers to evaluate a loan request. A team of experts will demystify the lending process, debunk the myths about SBA programs, and share real life examples of successful loan applicants. The roundtable is taught by experienced lenders with expertise in small business and SBA financing. This forum is best suited to those who have good credit history, money to invest in your business and a solid business idea.
