SBA Economic Injury Application Deadline for Last Year’s Disaster in Indiana is August 6

ATLANTA - The U.S. Small Business Administration is reminding businesses in Indiana that Economic Injury Disaster Loans are still available to small businesses and non-profit organizations of all sizes economically impacted by the severe storms and flooding that occurred on Aug. 4 – 9, 2009.

“Businesses and non-profit organizations that suffered economic losses as a result of the disaster and want to apply for low-interest loans from the SBA are urged to do so before the Aug. 6 deadline,” said Frank Skaggs, Director of SBA Field Operations Center East in Atlanta.

Small businesses and non-profit organizations of all sizes in the following counties are eligible to apply: Bartholomew, Clark, Decatur, Floyd, Harrison, Jackson, Jefferson, Jennings, Ripley, Scott, and Washington in Indiana; and Jefferson, Oldham, and Trimble in Kentucky.

Loans are available up to $2 million for small businesses and non-profit organizations that suffered substantial economic injury from the disaster. These working capital loans may be used to pay fixed debts, payroll, accounts payable, and other bills that could have been paid had the disaster not occurred. The loans are not intended to replace lost sales or profits.

The interest rate on these loans is 4 percent, with a maximum term of 30 years. The SBA determines the amount of economic injury and the terms of each loan based on the financial circumstances of each borrower. The SBA determines eligibility for the program based on the size and type of business and its financial resources.

To obtain a loan application, interested business owners and organizations should contact the SBA’s Customer Service Center by calling 800-659-2955 (800-877-8339 for people with speech or hearing disabilities) Monday through Friday from 8 a.m. to 6 p.m. EDT, or by sending an e-mail to disastercustomerservice@sba.gov.
